		11-4170
•		T/ 10/
	1 2 JUN 1958
	an Ex
	The Honorable James T. Patterson House of Representatives
	Washington, D. C.
	Dear Mr. Patterson:
	Thank you for your letter of 28 May 1958 to Mr. Dulles
•	We are reluctant to advise a young man to complete
-	specific courses in anticipation of employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we cannot assure
.	specific courses in anticipation of employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we cannot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifications as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however.	S
	specific courses in anticipation of employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we cannot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifications as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr. complete and return to us the enclosed application materials. The information supplied on these forms would enable us to evaluate his immediate prospects more readily and to appraise future opporatunities more realistically.	_
	specific courses in anticipation of employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we cannot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifications as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr. complete and return to us the enclosed application materials. The information supplied on these forms would enable us to evaluate his investigate prospects more readily and to appraise future opporations.	_
	specific courses in anticipation of employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we cannot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifica- tions as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr complete and return to us the enclosed application materials. The information supplied on these forms would enable us to evaluate his immediate prospects more readily and to appraise future oppor- tunities more realistically. Sincerely,	_
	specific courses in anticipation of Employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we cannot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifications as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr complete and return to us the anclosed application materials. The information supplied on these forms would enable us to evaluate his immediate prospects more readily and to appraise future opporatunities more realistically. Engagement 12.	_
	specific courses in anticipation of Emphoyeems as our needs are subject to change and we cannot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifications as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr complete and return to us the enclosed application materials. The information supplied on these forms would enable us to evaluate his immediate prospects more readily and to appraise future opporatunities more realistically. Sincerely,	_
STAT	specific courses in anticipation of Employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we cannot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifications as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr complete and return to us the anclosed application materials. The information supplied on these forms would enable us to evaluate his immediate prospects more readily and to appraise future opporatunities more realistically. Engagement 12.	_
STAT	specific courses in anticipation of employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we cannot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifica- tions as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr complete and return to us the enclosed application materials. The information supplied on these forms would enable us to evaluate his immediate prospects more readily and to appraise future oppor- tunities more realistically. Sincerely, C. P. Cabell Lightmant General, USAF	_
STAT	specific courses in anticipation of employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we cannot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifica- tions as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr. complete and return to us the enclosed application materials. The information supplied on these forms would enable us to evaluate his immediate prospects more readily and to appraise future oppor- tunities more realistically. Sincerely, Enclosure Enclosure	_
STAT	specific courses in anticipation of Employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we cannot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifica- tions as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr	SS
	specific courses in anticipation of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifications as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr. complete and return to us the enclosed application materials. The information supplied on these forms would enable us to evaluate his immediate prospects more readily and to appraise future opportunities more realistically. Enclosure C. P. Cabell Lieutement General, USAF Deputy Director Originator Director of Person	SS
STAT	specific courses in anticipation of Employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we commot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifica- tions as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr	SS nner
	specific courses in anticipation of Employment assure as our needs are subject to change and we commot assure him of employment when he becomes available. Knowledge of one or more foreign languages would enhance his qualifica- tions as well as would courses familiarizing him with the conduct of foreign affairs and governments. Such training is not an essential requirement in all positions, however. May we suggest that Mr	SS